

DR. ELIOT CENSURES
IMMODEST ATTIRE

Harvard Sage Admits He May Be
Old Fashioned, But Blames Society Women.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 5. — Dr. Charles W. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard, severely censures the Boston society women for immodesty of dress and manner and declared they were worse in these respects than women of lower station. Speaking before the Unitarian Women of Boston in the parish rooms of the Arlington Street Unitarian Church, he said women were themselves to blame for the prevalence of loose morals.

"I may be held old-fashioned for my views," said Dr. Eliot. "But when I was young no young man would think of smoking while with a woman. We can see the way women dress on any Boston street. Our mothers would call it an indecent way. These young women don't want to be indecent. They merely want to be fashionable and pretty. But the clothes are immodest."

"It has been my observation that the average woman has a higher sense of propriety in some of these matters than women of society. Moral tenets and the dictates of propriety, I believe, are considered more binding among middle class people than in the more varied atmosphere of the higher social circles."

ROCKEFELLER WINS PRIZES.

John D.'s Flowers Take High Honors at the Tarrytown Show.

John D. Rockefeller carried off the honors yesterday of the second day of the flower show of the Tarrytown Horticultural Society. He won Mrs. James H. H. Rockefeller's prize for the best twenty-five blooms of Kuchantrina carnations and Mrs. H. Fairfield Caborn's prize for the best twelve of one variety of roses other than American Beauties. He did not do so well in the competition for the Stuyvesant Fish Cup for the best decorated table, coming in third. The cup went to Frederick P. King of Irvington. Mrs. Thomas Luke took second prize with her decorations of Opheila roses and Mr. Rockefeller third with his dahlias and Mrs. Aaron Ward roses.

COUNTING THE COST.

(From the Tarrytown Horticultural Society.)
Belle—Have you been vaccinated recently?
Beulah—Oh, yes.
"Does it cost much?"
"Does it?" Well, say, George couldn't hug me for over three weeks."

Did
Your Boy
Grow 2 Inches Last Year?

And did he gain 5 pounds?

He should have—if he is an average boy, 8 years old.

But he can only develop normally and become a strong, healthy man—active in brain and body, if you give him the proper food now.

And because his breakfast food is especially important—give him Ralston porridge.

In the steaming deliciousness of a bowlful of golden Ralston porridge lie all the food elements necessary to make strong bones, hard muscles, and rich red blood.

Ralston is whole wheat

For Ralston is wheat, as nature made it—with the flavor and golden color of the sun-ripened grain.

Give Ralston to your boy, and to all the rest of the family too. It means growth to children, energy to adults, and delightful breakfasts to them all.
